Some links are broken.. A: That might be because the torrent download is called "Multi-Threaded JDownloader" (The anti-virus (if any) might be blocking the download as it is considered harmful for the computer to download that kind of software. In that case, the real name of that file you are trying to download is "jd-11d.exe" and not "Multi-Threaded JDownloader". In any case you have to look for the right file in your computer to download this software. And if you do not find it in your computer, or if you have a really good anti-virus (which if any), then you have to disable the anti-virus's "JDownloader" filter. Q: Why are there flaws in this proof? I am given the following statement: Let u be a complex number with positive imaginary part. Then, $|u|>|u|$. Prove or Disprove: If a complex number has zero real and imaginary parts, then the number is zero. A: Hint : $w = \dfrac{z}{1 + i}$. A: To be as comprehensive as possible: The argument of z can be expressed as a complex number w using i:
$\dfrac{x+iy}{\sqrt{x^{2}+y^{2}}}=\dfrac{x}{\sqrt{x^{2}+y^{2}}}\cdot i$. The inner argument $u=\sqrt{x^{2}+y^{2}}$ then has positive imaginary part. The modulus of w now is given by $|z|=\sqrt{x^{2}+y^{2}}$ If $x=y=0$, the claim is trivial. Take the general case: $w=a+ib$ with $a=x$ and $b=y$. Then the modulus is $\begin{equation} |z|^2=a^2+b^2\\ |w|^2=|a|^2+|b|^2\\ \end{$
