Hair loss prevention and treatment can be a bit complex, as there are many causes of hair loss, including heredity, loss of hair follicles and sensitivity to hair loss medications. However, the most common cause is a nutritional deficiency. Biotin, zinc, iron and copper levels in hair loss may vary.

Each may play a role in hair loss in some people, but in many people it's a combination of deficiencies that triggers hair loss and decreases the rate of new hair growth. Biotin plays a vital role in collagen synthesis, which is needed for new hair follicle formation. . health and wellness products to the Muslim Ummah. Ahmed.
