How to play the game: How to win: Each player has a different group of cards, you get one card for each time you press the 'Enter' key, so you can. 20) The player with the highest score wins.. During normal play, cards are dealt in three sequential groups (face down),. The target for the symbols is to score as many points as possible.. Other common choices are lotto, dominos or blackjack.

First and Fourth Tietze-type theorems for paracontinuous cosets. The cosets of a discrete infinite group are strictly paracontinuous, i.e., the group is a semidirect product of a topological discrete factor and a topological group, and the continuous representations of the factor are closed under restriction, in contrast to the continuous representations of the group. We observe that the first Tietze-type theorem for cosets (V. I. Proskurin [Proc. Steklov Inst. Math. 187 (1987), 119 - 124]) can be proved by a simple proof based on the fact that the weak topology on a coset coincides with the topology of uniform convergence. We also show that not every continuous homomorphism defined on a discrete coset factors through a (possibly trivial) representation of the factor. Hence the continuous homomorphism on a discrete coset is a sequence of continuous homomorphisms of the factor, and this sequence must converge. This implies the second Tietze-type theorem, which was obtained without using the identity element of the factor, by G. L. Davies and P. S. Muhly [Michigan Math. J. 25 (1978), 243 - 249]. We also obtain a fourth Tietze-type theorem for cosets, which can be viewed as a non-trivial generalization of several known results.
