The Panasonic LUMIX S Series is a series of full-frame mirrorless cameras, which have unique advanced functions with their interchangeable lenses. The latest firmware for Panasonic LUMIX S Series cameras will be available through the links below: In Japan, via <http://www.panasonic.co.jp/support/> In the U.S.A, via <http://www.panasonic.com/support/> To keep pace with the market, Panasonic will continue to maintain and evolve firmware support for its LUMIX G Series mirrorless cameras and Micro Four Thirds cameras. In addition, through the support of built-in custom modules, Panasonic will continue to enhance their functions. In addition to above, Panasonic is currently developing an ultra-wide-angle zoom lens CX Lens 10.5-35mm f/2.8 in collaboration with Sigma Corporation. With this product, LUMIX G cameras will be able to provide a level of power and quality that has never been seen before in a compact camera. The release date is still in development, and we will announce the new lens development and the release of the update to our customers and the public in the future.
