This is one of the major reasons most borrowers do not choose FHA loans for their financing needs. However, with credit insurance you can qualify for a mortgage without having to carry a down payment. The cost of a credit insurance policy is much less than the cost of a down payment or mortgage insurance. Also, your interest rate may be lower since you will have the ability to borrow more money than if you had used an FHA loan for your mortgage. Credit insurance companies usually have two types of policies, as follows: (1) "Second Mortgage Credit Insurance" to protect a second mortgage lender's security and (2) "Private Mortgage Credit Insurance" to protect a homeowner's property. AdaptAir Lite is a Java program for automatically generating the adaptive bitrate version of a movie file. This program doesn't do any modification to the source file, except setting the bitrate to the equivalent of the best average bitrate, given the average bitrate of the file and the average bitrate of the film to be encoded. Licensing: AdaptAir Lite is free and open source software, distributed under the GNU General Public License (GPL). Usage: AdaptAir Lite has no options and does not require a configuration file. When starting, it checks for an XML configuration file. If a configuration file is found, the program will use its information to make decisions. If no XML configuration file is found, the program will use its built-in default settings. When the program runs, it will automatically search for a folder where the input files are and will automatically save the output file. License: AdaptAir Lite is free and open source software, distributed under the GNU General Public License (GPL). Credits: AdaptAir Lite was originally created by Louis Boulant, then merged into PixelTech Solutions, Inc. (founded by Louis Boulant), then merged into Adaptavant.com (founded by Louis Boulant), and eventually being merged into AdaptAir (founded by Louis Boulant). Modifications and adaptations: AdaptAir Lite has been tested to work with Windows, Linux, Mac, and Solaris. Known problems and limitations: AdaptAir Lite can handle files encoded by AVISynth, but is not an AVISynth compliant encoder. See Avisynth tutorial for more information.
