Parastatin Parastatin (MLN1117), a non-peptide urea-containing compound, is an orally active, selective and reversible histamine H3 receptor antagonist. It is active in animal models of cognitive function and anxiety. It has no affinity for the muscarinic acetylcholine receptor and the nicotinic acetylcholine receptor. Parastatin is a structural analog of the histamine H3-receptor antagonist (R)-alpha-methylhistamine. It has a unique pharmacodynamic profile for histamine H3 antagonists: it activates H3 receptors, but has no agonist activity. References

Wondershare AirPlay Description AirPlay is the name of a proprietary protocol Apple introduced with iOS 5.0 that makes it possible for users to play content from a connected Apple TV on a computer. Now, Wondershare brings AirPlay to Windows, and this is an excellent addition to the many other AirPlay related applications we have on hand. Wondershare AirPlay allows you to browse and play Apple TV content on your Windows PC using your Mac keyboard and mouse. By using AirPlay, you can run multiple Apple TV streams at once on your computer, and your computer will also enable you to browse your Apple TV's collection of movies and shows from your iTunes library. However, AirPlay does not work with all Apple TVs and is only compatible with the fourth generation Apple TV. In addition, AirPlay can only play Apple TV content from iTunes and the Apple TV's on-screen Home screen, and it will not play content from an Apple TV running a custom skin or third-party application. Because AirPlay only works with iTunes on Windows, you will not be able to play content stored on the Apple TV. Furthermore, your computer's media library will not work with AirPlay, nor can you browse your Apple TV content with AirPlay. Wondershare AirPlay will work with both Mac and Windows computers, and it is easy to use, requiring no special drivers or software. For AirPlay to work properly on your PC, you will need to have iTunes installed, and the Apple TV's Home screen. Please note that Wondershare AirPlay is a trial version, and you can only use it for 30 days. Thanks for taking a look at our Wondershare AirPlay review.
